The Hobart Game.

Under rather threatening conditions the second game of the trip was played with Hobart at Geneva, on May 26th, and proved to be an easy victory for Hamilton. The team as a whole played exceptionally well considering the slippery condition of the diamond. To the steady head work of "Louie" is due much credit for our victory. Although Hobart made ten hits, yet they were well scattered, and except for an unfortunate bundle of errors in the fifth, followed by a hit, Hobart would have received another shut out. After the one unfortunate inning which was caused more or less by Hobart's coterie of scissor-grinders playing their trade, there was no more scoring for Hobart. Hamilton started in the second to score and had tallied five at the end of the fifth. We did not score again until the eighth when "Tim", "Louie" and "Bram." scored on a long hit to center.

The Intercollegiate Track Meet.

The Intercollegiate was held Decoration day at Crittenden Park, Rochester, and resulted in a victory for Colgate, the fourth consecutive time that the maroon has won the championship. Hamilton pulled out a very respectable second, much to the disappointment of the Rochester supporters who hoped even to win.

We cannot forego a word on the general atmosphere of the meet. While the management was everything obliging and courteous, it lacked completely the ability, men, or facilities to run the meet off in anything like decent fashion. There was but one set of field judges, which delayed things immensely. The events were not promptly run off. The crowd was very small and any hope of a dividend has been abandoned by the local management, though something may possibly be forthcoming. There was obvious and expressed lack of interest on the part of the contestants and the various managers and coaches.

The arrangements for the jumps were poor, which counted against our pole-vaulters in particular. The clay track was very wet and heavy from the rain of the night before, though late in the afternoon it dried out into fairly good shape. The track was especially bad for the sprinters and hurdlers and under the conditions the performances were very creditable.

Palmer, Rochester's star, defeated Castleman in the hundred, though there was some trouble over the starter's work. Bidwell, Rochester, received the third place over Sicard, though no one but the judges saw it that way.

Castleman, however, took the twenty with Sicard and Bidwell close up, in 23 2-5 seconds, very good time on that track. Castleman won the high hurdle in 16 4-5 seconds, with Palmer and Sicard second and third. Holley ran a pretty race in the low hurdle, beating out Roosa and finishing close to Castleman, who won in 27 seconds.

Palmer secured another first in the quarter, running in the remarkable time of 52 1-5 seconds. Roosa and Bramley took the other places close behind Palmer.

Sisson, Colgate, won the half in the suspiciously fast time of 2 minutes 42-5. Had Grossmeyer been in the race we would scarcely have taken a place. Meeker ran well in the mile, finishing third to Leach and Burton, time 4 minutes 53 seconds.

Smith ran a race in the two-mile event. On the back stretch of the last lap, about four hundred yards from the line, Smith, then fifty or seventy-five yards in the rear, commenced to sprint. In spite of the best efforts of the Colgate coach Smith came abreast a hundred yards from the tape. The finish was a heart-breaker. Five yards from the line the great Burton bit the dust and Leach had just strength to fall against the worsted a foot to the good, Smith second; time, 11 minutes. It was the race of the day and a sore disappointment to Colgate.

The jumps went one way. Ferris and Holley both cleared 21 feet and on the jump-off Ferris added an inch. Cummins, of Colgate, was third with 20 feet 7 3-4 inches. Carroll and Bagg took the high jump easily at 5 feet 4 inches, the former winning the medal on the jump-off. Holley and Scoon did no better than tie for third in the pole, Wood and Nichols taking first and second at 9 feet 7 inches.

Ford, Colgate, won the shot with Sherman second. Thunder, Gilbert and Sherman were placed in that order in the hammer.

All in all we made an excellent showing, though we might and ought to have bettered our score in some events. We had more individual point winners than either Colgate or Rochester. Castleman took 18 of Colgate's points and Palmer 13 of Rochester's while our score was distributed evenly among a dozen men. Meeker, Smith, Holley, Carroll, Sherman, Ferris and Scoon won their track H's. On most of these men the Syracuse meet had an apparently beneficial effect. The season is now over, and creditably, we believe.

The Advisory Board Meeting.

The regular meeting of the Advisory Board was held last Friday evening. The matter of revising the constitution was discussed. Drummond and Sicard, '06, were added to the committee already existent. The committee now consists of Dr. Wood, chairman, Prof. White, MacIntyre, '05, Sicard and Drummond, '06.

The matter of hiring a track was considered, but definite action was deferred.

The resignation of Prof. Fitch from the office of treasurer was accepted and a vote of thanks tendered him for his painstaking work in office. Prof. Davenport was nominated to fill the vacancy.

The following recommendations were made to the Athletic Association at the meeting held in the chapel on Saturday:

Manager baseball, Kuolt, '07, assistant manager, H. H. Holley, '08; manager track, Scoon, '07, assistant manager, Henderson, '08; manager tennis, Purdy, '06, assistant manager, G. C. Clark, '07; manager basket-ball, Brokaw, '06, assistant manager, Gordon, '07; manager musical clubs, French, '06, assistant manager, Meeker, '07.

A cursory notice of the constitution of the Athletic Association shows it to be an effete assemblage of rules and regulations. Since 1901 when it was issued there have been a number of important changes in athletics in this College—in a word they have been modernized. The constitution as it now stands makes no provision for the department of tennis. There are no standing regulations as to who shall be eligible to vote for captains of the various teams. The standing necessary to appear in the team picture is also left undecided. There should be some uniform rule regarding these matters.

Unless some one has kept his edition well interlined he is at loss to know just how the rules which our worthy pre-advisers brought forth in 1901 should read in the light of present experience and development.

The rules in toto are not concise and thorough enough and we look for an improvement when the committee lately appointed reports.

There was also suggested the formation of an Interscholastic Association with rules and regulations as to the general conduct of interacademic matters. The College meeting formally passed all recommendations.

At the same College meeting which passed upon the recommendations of the Advisory Board, the nominations to the Lit. Board were confirmed. The Board now consists of S. T. Kinney, '06, W. T. Purdy, '06, R. B. McLean, '06, A. M. Drummond, '06, R. B. Peck, '07, D. H. Miller, '07, and C. Trippe, '07.

Among the Colleges.

King Victor Emmanuel of Italy has conferred upon Professor Charles Eliot Norton, of Harvard University, the Decoration of Grand Officer of the Order of the Crown, in recognition of his services in translating Dante's works in English and his services to Italian literature in America.

The Filipino students at the University of California, assisted by the Filipino students in other American universities, will soon begin the publication of a magazine. It will be printed in English and Spanish, and will be circulated through the United States, Europe and the Philippine Islands. Five hundred subscriptions have already been received from Manila, where a business agent is located.

Denison University is to have a $35,000 dormitory and $15,000 will be expended upon a new gymnasium for the women's college. The science building, which was destroyed by fire some time ago, is also to be rebuilt.

The class of '07 of the University of California has a Chinese student on the editorial staff of the Blue and Gold. He has charge of the Oriental Department, which will be a feature of the '07 publication.

THE HAMILTONIAN IS OUT!

THE INTERCOLLEGIATE at Rochester was a failure. The interest has gone. Most of the men on all the teams felt as though it was a duty to compete and the managers and authorities even were tired with the affair. Colgate doesn't care for the Union any longer. Were there a way to retire from it she would gladly do so. Hobart evidently doesn't have any interest. Rochester isn't at all enthusiastic and we certainly are not.

The Union has done a great and a good work but its usefulness is over. It must be enlarged and rejuvenated in some manner, and until it is, or until there appears a way to do so, we were best out of it. To anyone who has attended the Intercollegiates of the last few years this is very evident. Neither Hamilton nor Colgate has a game scheduled with Hobart next fall. That at once knocks out the real object of the Union in football. Unless the Intercollegiate is to make some money that certainly must cease.

Why not hold it in Utica every year, if it is to continue? There we can make money surely, and that is what we need, and need badly. This whole question is one of serious import and the time for decision is ripe. We must make up our minds as to what we ought to do and then do it.

We say, get out of the Union. Then, if we can, form a larger league for the purpose of holding a large intercollegiate open to colleges of the state, and either including or excluding Syracuse, Cornell and Columbia in a body. We think this the solution.

THE ACTION OF THE Advisory Board in taking steps to revise and re-edit the Constitution, is to be highly commended. There are numerous clauses that need recasting and some insertions should be made. The idea of strengthening the Interscholastic by framing rules and regulations and forming, if possible, an association, seems to be one worth investigating. Many colleges follow this plan, notably Cornell, which if we are not mistaken, was the first university to form such an association with the intention of making interscholastic athletics less promiscuous and generally topsy-turvy. At Cornell this plan was worked successfully for years.

Wouldn't it be a good idea for the Class of 1906 to give an interscholastic cup, to be held permanently by the school winning it for, say seven or five years? This would add zest to competition certainly. This class could easily afford such a cup. And we will need it next spring. Think it over.

THE PRIZE ESSAY work for Sophomore and Junior years has become a one hour elective, the Freshman essay having previously been made compulsory. This, which at first sight seems easy for the electors, will not be a letting up in requirements. A good essay takes more time than a one-hour through a term. And then, too, it's hard to get those little favors into your schedule.

It is a step in the right direction we believe and will tend to promote interest in a department where there is a great chance of our becoming weak. By getting a taste for essay writing in Freshman year and having an elective in it for two years following, men will be enabled to test their ability and then exercise their talent without intruding on their regular work. This is a good plan; bolster up the general English and oratorical work. Their standard is high, but why not have it higher?

TO CRITICISE the present Freshman class seems to be an endless task. Previous efforts seems to have had about as much effect as rain falling on a barren rock. However, here is a point that can not be past over and we hope that those for whom this criticism is meant will take it to heart.

Some of the Freshmen, especially those who occupy the back row of seats, do not seem to understand the purpose of morning chapel. For the edification of these gentlemen the information is forthcoming that it is a devotional exercise, not a time to read the morning newspaper, or to get out a nine o'clock recitation. It is the duty of every man in college to rise at the singing of the hymns. If it is not too much for a Senior to do, it is not too much for a Freshman. Visitors who look down from the gallery and see students calmly sitting down reading newspapers, when the college is standing to sing the hymn, certainly do not carry away a very high opinion of our politeness. No man's conscience prohibits him from obeying the acknowledged forms of courtesy.

DURING THE LAST WEEK or two there has been a gang of workmen busy along the Hill and the lower edge of Campus, near the cemetery, laying a subway for electric wiring. This has been under the personal direction of Prof. S. J. Saunders, and has been pushed ahead with the utmost vigor. At present the Alpha Delta Phi Hall is connected and lighted by electricity, and the work is well along towards Commons Hall. It is a year last November since this latter building has had any light of more than one candle power. It is needless to say that Prof. Saunderson's work will be appreciated by those eating at Commons.

Now that "the powers that be" have seen fit to allow two buildings on the campus to have modern lighting, why can't the rest of the College have electricity and become up-to-date? For a long time this term, the Chapel, Gymnasium and, worst of all, Carnegie Hall were left in total darkness by the failure of our gas machine to generate gas. Gasolene gas, as a method of lighting modern buildings, such as our new dormitory, is a trifle out of date anyway, and many of us are puzzling our heads to understand how our Board of Trustees could ever have been so shortsighted as to allow its installment. If so good a machine—it is said to have cost about $1,000—can't supply light, which is brilliant enough to be used to study under, to Carnegie during the first college year of its existence, or fails entirely as it did this spring, it seems almost time to make a change.

Now that a good start has been made toward putting electric lights on the Hill, why can't the good work be kept up? Let the Chapel, the Gymnasium, Carnegie and all the rest of the buildings be lighted in a satisfactory manner. Of course it will be expensive, but not much more than the continuous tinkering the present apparatus requires. Everyone on the hill is grateful to Prof. Saunders for the beginning he has so successfully made, and fervently hopes that it is only the beginning, and that the end will not come until Hamilton College has its buildings lighted in a manner fitting a modern institution.

Syracuse Defeated.

The tennis team smothered Syracuse University at Syracuse last Saturday, winning six out of seven matches. The day was ideal for tennis, with no breeze to bother the players.

Sicard lost the first two games in singles to Clarke; then braced, and won twelve straight in easy style. Sicard is now fully in form, and his smashing of short lobs was a revelation to the representative of the orange.

Richardson had a touch of stage fright at the beginning of his match, but soon steadied down to his old back-court game and pulled out the match handily.

Day had no trouble at any stage, holding his man safe throughout. Housknecht won the second game of each set. Day won five love games in this match.

Mills had more trouble with his man. The games were even time and time again. Mills finally turning the trick in two deuce sets. He played steadily but was unable to smash successfully.

Simmons lost the first match in short order, being unable to handle Partridge's cuts. The second set went 5-2 in Partridge's favor, when Simmons took a temporary brace, but the set finally went to Syracuse, 8-6.

In the doubles Sicard and Day defeated Clarke and Housknecht with little trouble. The men played well together and left few gaps on their side of the net. Sicard was the most brilliant, handling Clarke's curve smashes accurately and practically without error. Day was on the spot when needed, however, and carried out his part with steadiness and skill.

Mills and Richardson were handicapped by the difference in their style of game, but finally won, taking the necessary two out of three.

On the whole the match was well contested—more so than the scores show.

The scores follow:

Sicard defeated Clark, 6-2, 6-0.
Day defeated Housknecht, 6-1, 6-1.
Richardson defeated Stickles, 6-4, 6-0.
Mills defeated Tussler, 8-6, 7-5.
Partridge defeated Simmons, 6-2, 8-6.
Sicard and Day defeated Clarke and Housknecht, 6-0, 6-3.
Mills and Richardson defeated Tussler and Stickles, 7-5, 4-6, 6-2.
Hamilton 6, Syracuse 1.

College Notes.

—It is reported that even Fake left the Hill Tuesday.

—Another tennis victory—this time Syracuse. That's not so bad.

—Summit Park is now running, with the usual quota from the Hill.

—The Rochester tennis team will play here June 8th, five men on a side.

—Frank Wright, '05, has returned to the Hill to take the Senior examinations.

—Clark is the "only little Indian" left on the fence in "Square's" triangle contest.

—The Job Lots won from the Clinton team Tuesday afternoon by a score of 9 to 3.

—The Senior vacation begins soon, a sure sign that the year is drawing to a close.

—A Commencement tax of $6.50 has been levied on the members of the Senior class.

—Annibal, Beck, Greengard and Pratt have been appointed Freshmen prize speakers.

—Hosmer, ex-'06, was back for a couple of days this week. He is the same old "Hos."

—"Bill" Squires, in Logic—"Mr. Hallock, what figures have you on the board?" "Titus"—"Nothing." "Bill"—"That's your mark; your full sized mark."

—A rural visitor, seeing Prex's pond behind the grandstand last week, seriously asked if we had a crew.

—The open cars are running now. It's a case of carrying a raincoat or playing "freeze out" all the way back.

—The Clark Prize Contest and the Freshman Frolic occur Wednesday evening. Everyone should attend.

—Spring football practice began Thursday afternoon and will be continued every afternoon for a couple of weeks.

—Work on the electric lighting system is progressing merrily. From all indications we shall have light on the Hill soon.

—Several members of the Faculty "cut" Wednesday morning, having some respect for the cold, gray dawn of the morning after." Small favors thankfully received.

—The Freshman baseball squad began practice last Monday. Rather late in the season to start the game. Nevertheless, Manager Benedict has arranged a good schedule.

—The Freshman Prize Stab was held last Wednesday noon. The speaking was good and the Freshmen seem to be losing their reputation as the poorest class of speakers in College.

—Colgate was deeply disappointed because of the recent defeat of Castleman in the 100-yard dash. Some of our sprinters should take hope, having seen that such a thing is possible.

—Saturday afternoon the Theta Deltas defeated the Chi Psis in a game of baseball. The game was very interesting from the spectator's standpoint, and at times extremely humorous. The score was 16 to 10.

—In a dual meet on the campus, Clinton High School defeated the Wheeler Prep. School. "Tim" Carroll's proteges were unable to make good, much to the disappointment of the jumper from Greenville.

—"Bill" Mahady got "boobied" by Pound on Decoration Day, Pound telephoned for a rig, Mahady drove in, Pound got in, accompanied, and "Commons Bill" walked the Hill, with many groans and imprecations.

—In Junior Latin a few days ago "Wardie" stated that on a certain date later in the week papers on the Roman baths would be read. Sittig took occasion to cut on that date and was noticeable by his absence. The chance for a moral lesson was lost; the words of advice were in vain.

—Much to the disgust of "Bill" Shep. "Drum" and "Sic" held a track meet with an ant in French early in the week. There is nothing like "suping" the Faculty.

—The following men won the honor of wearing a track "H" in the triangular meet at Rochester: H. K. Holley, Ferris and Carroll, R. Sherman, Smith, Meeker and Scoon 1907.

—No track meet will be held between the Freshmen and Colgate, 1908. Our track men did not think it worth while to keep in training for such a contest. They may be right, but some adverse criticism has been heard.

—Cornell plays a tennis tournament with Hamilton on the campus June 17th. The Ithacans will bring a six-man team and a good match is expected. Sicard, Mills, G. Day, Richardson, and E. Day will probably play. The sixth man has not been picked.

—"Timmie" Sherman was caught by "Drib" in Greek with his shoes off. "Drib", after a few harsh looks, remarked, "Mr. Sherman, kindly desist from wiggling your toes and the recitation will progress." That's what you call holding up the parade.

—"Slip" Heacock distinguished himself in the campus roaming photography class Thursday, by breaking two plates out of a possible two while trying to take a picture of himself in his new gray bathrobe—prince albert frock coat—cut away—bloomers effect.

—From Minneapolis comes the news of the death of Rev. Henry Simmons, Salutatorian of the Class of '64. Mr. Simmons has had a very successful career in the ministry. His death is deeply regretted by a large number of friends in Minneapolis and elsewhere.

—T. Sherman, '06, had an accident with his automobile Sunday which turned out luckily. While attempting to pass a team in front of the Theta Delta Chi house the machine ran into the ditch. The front axle was quite badly sprung, but after some minor repairs he was able to proceed to Utica.

—"Bill" Rood unduly disturbed the embryology class Tuesday afternoon by chewing a translucent substance, supposedly used for making candles. When he "waxed" louder and louder and the class became impatient, "Buggs" remarked that "Mr. Rudd was simply feeding on a rich and succulent fodder." "Schnitz" says that he has sent men out of class for that.

The Rochester Game.

On May 27th we closed a three days trip with the game at Rochester. After a good start of two runs in first innings, it looked as if Hamilton had a fine chance to even up matters with Rochester, but in their half a couple of bad errors by Hamilton and a two-bagger and a single netted them three runs and enough to win the game. The contest was devoid of hitting, but snappy with one or two exceptions. Hamilton scored again in the third, but Rochester tallied twice in the fourth. Again in the sixth we brought in one more only to have Rochester do the same in her half of the seventh. In the ninth after two were out Haven hit for two bags and scored on LeMunyan's hit. Things now began to look interesting as a misplay by Rochester put men on second and third, but the necessary hit was not forthcoming and we lost a hard fought game. This was Louis' third consecutive day in the box and he won for himself the title of the "iron man."

—Colgate is planning to hold a field meet on Whitnall Field during their Commencement week. The intention is to make it an open event, or rather, an invitation meet. It is expected that the members of our track team will be invited to enter the event, if they care to do so.
